

Reduce cost per claim with ABBYY data capture

Even with today's prevailing electronic exchange of information between healthcare payers and providers, a big portion of medical claims such as HCFA/CMS-1500 and UB-04/CMS-1450 is still issued on paper. Manually entering data from medical claim forms or correcting results of zonal OCR performed by a legacy imaging system is a resource-intensive process. Like all manual operations, it is prone to errors which can result in incorrect payments and rejected claims. And it scales only by bringing in more staff which makes it difficult to consistently meet deadlines and productivity targets.

ABBYY's advanced data capture for medical claims

ABBYY FlexiCapture[®] automatically captures data of the highest quality from medical claims, including such standard forms as HCFA/CMS-1500 and UB-04/CMS-1450. ABBYY's precision data extraction technology coupled with automatic validation rules ensures that your billing, accounting and claims management applications receive 100 percent accurate data with as minimal human involvement as possible.

By empowering your claims processing workflow, advanced data capture technology can have an immediate positive impact on your business:

- Up to three times lower cost per claim
- Flexibility to increase productivity without adding headcount
- Reduced number of exceptions and rejected claims
- Minimized risk of inaccurate payments

IMPROVE CASH FLOW WITH FLEXICAPTURE

ABBYY FlexiCapture offers an affordable standalone solution for up to 300,000 pages per year and a distributed solution for larger volumes.

With its powerful classification engine, ABBYY FlexiCapture learns to recognize documents of different types. Along with medical claims, the system can process intake forms, explanations of benefits, and other documents, providing an equally high level of quality and automation at various stages of the billing process.

Features that save hours

ABBYY FlexiCapture offers a range of features that streamline and automate your claims processing workflow.

- Automatic capture of data from black & white and dropout forms with equally high quality
- Processing of various forms, including HCFA/CMS-1500 and UB-04/CMS-1450—in a single batch with classification
- Set of captured fields that is customizable to meet your requirements
- Automatic validation of data against lists of ICD and CPT codes and rules to meet requirements imposed by CMS
- Recognition of supporting documents attached to a claim, such as a remittance advice or an explanation of benefits
- Distributed scanning and submission of claims via the web browser, in addition to centralized capture

A solution for your business

ABBYY FlexiCapture is delivered by committed ABBYY partners that have extensive experience in deploying solutions for medical claims processing. Our certified partner will help you assess your requirements and configure a solution for your claims processing workflow, including the set of fields to extract from forms, validation rules and subsets of ICD and CPT codes to use, and the setup for export to EDI 837 format.

Optimize your claims processing today

Introduce ABBYY's advanced data capture into your medical claims processing to accurately capture data from a wide range of forms, scale on the fly, and reduce the cost-per-claim. The solution will be tailored for your specific business needs and requirements to ensure it delivers the highest possible ROI.

“As a BPO organization, we need to be very flexible. We need to provide solutions to our clients without any push back, and we need the same flexibility from our vendors. We evaluated ABBYY product against existing systems and found that the performance results were comparable to or exceeded the other solutions that were out there. For clients that pay for better accuracy, it’s a better solution”
